We offer credit and non-credit learning opportunities in a variety of subjects, from more traditional disciplines such as literature and philosophy, to business-oriented courses, to master's degrees. Learn how to integrate business functions in this introduction to the Canadian business environment. Topics include the economic environment, essentials of business planning, types of business ownership, business ethics, social responsibility, and legal and regulatory issues. Roger Ebert seems to have resented star ratings, which he had to dish out atop each and every one of his hundreds upon hundreds of regular newspaper movie reviews. He also emphasized, every once in a while, his disdain for the "thumbs up" and "thumbs down" system that became his and Gene Siskel's. Offered on-site in the financial district of San Francisco, the Doctor of Business Administration program offers a state-of-the-art curriculum delivered by experienced, highly qualified professors.
