Before ordering your meal, please inform your Loving Hut server of any allergies that you may have. We share this planet with seven billion others. What is our relationship with them? Are we a single unity? Do we belong to one of many tribal divisions? Are we individuals in a planet full of individuality? There is, of course, no single answer to these fundamental questions. Our sense of identity and diversity depends on context. But the way ...The George, Christchurch's luxury boutique hotel, is the essence of supreme comfort with a reputation as one of the world's best hotels. Following its extensive room refurbishment each of the spacious rooms is designed with a stylish eye for detail, and with a one-to-one ratio of staff to guests, impeccable service is assured.
